”Only the best grapes are used for the wine”

Story

The secret behind the great wines of Jérôme Quiot is centuries of know-how combined with modern winemaking. Even today, the grapes are collected by hand and the yields are kept small, to make the wines intense. The vines are about 40 years old on average. Châteauneuf-du-Pape Domaine Duclaux is made in a very traditional way. Only the best grapes are used for the wine, and the wine is allowed to ferment slowly for three to four weeks. The wine is then matured for 20 months before being bottled on the vineyard.

Producer

The history of the Quiot family, a French winemaking legacy, is intertwined with the history of the Rhône Valley. Antoine Quiot acquired his first hectares of vineyard in Vaucluse, specifically in the Châteauneuf-du-Pape area, as early as 1748. Presently, the family owns five wine estates comprising several hundred hectares of vineyards scattered across the southern Rhône Valley. Following the unexpected passing of Jérôme Quiot in 2018, the estates are managed by Florence and Jean-Baptiste Quiot. The family's primary estate has always been the Domaine du Vieux Lazaret, situated right in the heart of Châteauneuf-du-Pape. Domaine Duclaux, Combes d'Arnevels, Domaine Houchart, and Château du Trignon complement the holdings of this esteemed wine family, where history and expertise converge, providing wine enthusiasts with an essential part of the Rhône Valley's gastronomic world.
