STERNTHALER CHRISTKINDLES GLÜHWEIN

”A breeze of wintry Central Europe on the palate and on the nose”

Story Sternthaler Christkindles Glühwein is a mulled wine, made from quality European red wine. Spices with, among others, cloves, cinnamon and nutmeg. Glögi’s label depicts the old centre of the German city of Bernkastel, where Glühwein is enjoyed in the middle of the market as a warm-up in winter time.

Producer Wein- & Sektkellerei Josef Drathen is situated in the Moselle Valley, Germany. The company has a long history dating back to when the initially Dutch Drathen family settled in the area. In 1860, they established a winery bearing the family name. Today, the company remains one of the leading producers in the Moselle region, still under the leadership of the Drathen family. Their range includes both German and international wines as well as sparkling wines.

TASTE This wine has a scent of exotic spices, and is pleasantly light and suitably sweet

TIPS FOR USE On its own, Glühwein pairs well with gingerbread and spicy winter pastries. You can also use dark Negrita rum or Disaronno Originale to give the wine extra warmth and sweetness. According to the German custom, you can also enjoy it as a warming drink in front of the fireplace, served with savoury snacks. It is also a good warmer when returning from a winter ski run or a walk. Delight yourself with warming Gluhwein throughout the winter, from the lucid days of autumn to the last hangout in spring. Just heat to serve.
