TOSTI PROSECCO ROSÉ

"Finally, a pink prosecco"

Story An amendment of the Italian wine legislation allows the use of Pinot Noir grapes in the production of prosecco, and lovers of this wine will have the choice of pink prosecco. Rosé gives prosecco more dimensions, and in addition to parties, prosecco will now be seen even more often at the dining tables. Tosti's wine-making skills guarantee the high quality and agility of this new type of wine. The belly-shaped bottle is easily identified by its distinctive shape and the thumb-tip sized recess on the label. Tosti's Prosecco is now joyfully pink.

Producer Tosti has been producing sparkling wine in the hills of Canelli for over 200 years. It remains a family business owned by the Bosca family, gradually transitioning responsibility to the eighth generation. A family-owned enterprise can be extensive: 500 families grow grapes for Tosti across a total of 650 hectares, and their long-standing tradition binds these farmers to the high-quality standards demanded by Tosti. Tosti also crafts organic sparkling wine and repeatedly award-winning traditional method sparkling wines under the Alta Langa DOCG. However, Moscato Asti and Glera grapes remain at the heart of Tosti's production. These wines encapsulate Italy in a traditional bottle. Therefore, the producer poses the question on the label: What would life be without Prosecco?
