HERDADE DE SÃO MIGUEL COLHEITA SELECCIONADA RED

CASA RELVAS
ALENTEJO | PORTUGAL

”Alentejo’s gift to the world”

Story

This wine comes from the middle of beautiful nature in Redondo Alentejo, where the soil of the vineyards consists of clay and slate. The vineyards are surrounded by forest. The sun could easily toast the dark grapes into raisins, but Touriga Nacional does well here. The wine is robust and well-balanced, but at the same time fresh. A characterful wine from Touriga Nacional, Syrah, Alicante Bouschet and Cabernet Sauvignon grapes. The grapes are machine harvested at night. Fermented in refrigerated steel tanks, where skin contact will continue for five to ten days afterwards. The final maturation takes place partly in French oak.

Producer

Casa Relvas, a Portuguese winery, aims to produce quality wines for all occasions; wines that evoke good times and represent Alentejo's gift to the world. Established in 1997, the young company has experienced significant growth, managing 750 hectares of cork-producing forests, 250 hectares of olive groves, and 350 hectares of vineyards. Consistency in high-quality production characterizes the six million wine bottles produced annually, earning hundreds of awards and excellent reviews from wine critics. The producer has been awarded the Earth Friendly winery status and engages in numerous environmental conservation projects alongside winemaking. Relvas also focuses on sustainable development through social and economic initiatives. Five percent of Relvas' production is certified organic wines.

COLOR Dark red

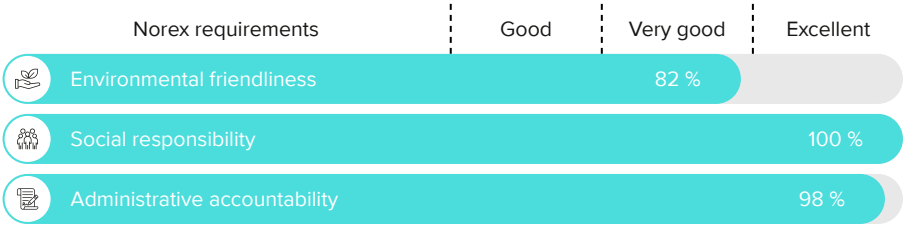

AROMA Rich boysenberries on the nose, blackcurrant, dark chocolate and herbs

TASTE Full-bodied, silky tannins, dark notes of berry, cherry, peppery and herbal. Light leather and moccha notes linger through the long end
