WEINGUT BRAUN WEISSBURGUNDER TROCKEN

”Spring wine”

Story

Braun Weissburgunder Trocken is the perfect spring wine that can fortunately be enjoyed anytime. Its open, budding fruitiness evokes the essence of spring and blossoms. This is precisely why it is also an excellent wine for asparagus. The grapes are harvested from the renowned slopes of Rheinpfalz, specifically from a plot called Haßlocher Leisböhl. The wine has undergone fermentation and maturation in stainless steel tanks. Braun categorizes this wine under 'alltag,' recommending it for daily use. This high-quality everyday wine adds a touch of celebration to the ordinary. The wine is suitable for vegans

Producer

Weingut Braun was established in Meckenheim when the family businesses of the current owners' grandparents merged in the 1970s. The Ellerstadt and Meckenheim estates did not need to ponder a combined name, as both parties bore the surname Braun, despite not being related. The foundational values of Weingut Braun in winemaking revolve around the perspective of nature and respect for the environment, essential elements in producing both everyday wines and distinctive premium wines. "It is a joy to make wine that you fully stand behind but also love to enjoy yourself. We live for and through wine." The wine selection at Weingut Braun is impressively extensive. In addition to Rheinpfalz white wines, the range includes red wines, rosés, and sparkling wines, featuring familiar varieties like Riesling and Müller-Thurgau alongside several lesser-cultivated grapes in the region, such as Cabernet Sauvignon and Sankt Laurent.

AROMA notes of citrus, white peach, nuts, and nettle can be detected

TASTE The palate is dry, richly fruity, refreshingly citrusy, distinct, and relatively long-lasting

TIPS FOR USE Braun Weissburgunder Trocken is an enjoyable aperitif, a fruity social wine, and a versatile table wine. Particularly charming, this gently acidic wine pairs well with asparagus
