LUNARIA RUMINAT PRIMITIVO ORGANIC

”Red Garden”

Story

Lunaria Ruminat Primitivo is an organic biodynamic wine. Its Primitivo grapes, supported by an Abruzzi pergola, grew 450 meters above sea level. The rachis were removed from carefully selected bunches, and after pressing, the peel of the grapes remained in the fermented juice for 20 days. Fermentation with natural yeasts took place in refrigerated steel tanks. For serving, it is advisable to cool the wine lightly to 16-18 °C. Suits vegans.

Producer

Cantina Orsogna is an award-winning cooperative in Abruzzo, focusing on indigenous grape varieties such as Montepulciano d’Abruzzo, Cococciola, Trebbiano d’Abruzzo, and Pecorino. Orsogna is committed to biodynamic practices in winemaking, and many of their wines hold strict Demeter certification. Through their Lunaria brand, they participate in the World Wildlife Fund's wolf conservation project, aimed at preserving the native wolves of Abruzzo and Calabria. Instead of traditional capsules, the bottles are sealed with rustic twine managed by the local BABALU Friendship Farm. Their dedication and trust in the original nature, its charm, and the unveiling of its best qualities, have resulted in the Lunaria wine series, harmoniously blending excellence and strong personality. In the background, the sea and the Majella National Park immerse into dreams that give birth to ambitious projects. All of Orsogna's wines are organic and suitable for vegans.

COLOR Deep dark red colour

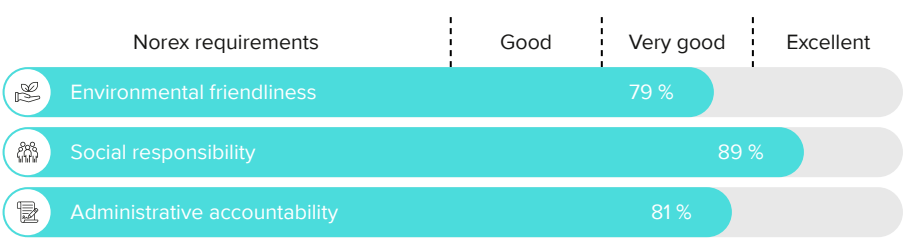

AROMA Lush, luscious red plums on the nose, boysenberries, blackcurrant, black cherries and tomato leaves

TASTE Full-bodied, succulent notes of berries, jam, pleasantly tanninous, warm, long and well-balanced

TIPS FOR USE Tastes great with tomato pasta, it is a versatile meat wine. A very special guy it gets from different salami sausages. Vegetable stews and pots with eggplant and tomato also taste good with this Primitivo.
