VENETO ROSSO IGT ORGANIC

"Succulent Venetian"

Story

Domini del Leone Veneto Rosso produced at Lorenzo Fidora's home vineyard in Civranetta, which is the oldest organic certified winery in Veneto. Veneto Rosso is a vintage-free blend of Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon, Raboso and Corvina grapes, which used refrigerated steel tanks. Grape vines grow in limestone and soil compacted by clay and silt. After fermentation, the wines matured partly in steel tanks and partly in 25 hectolitre French oak tanks. Suits vegans.

Producer

"In 1974, Guido Fidora decided to transition to organic farming on his family estate. At that time, it wasn't fashionable, and organic methods didn't represent any added value for consumers. There were no books, research, or teachers on the subject. Experience taught him. Now, in the fourth generation, biodiversity forms the foundation of their production. Bordering trees, hedges, thickets, and ponds protect both the vines and the plants growing on the estate, along with hares, foxes, pheasants, ducks, herons, and wild boars moving around there. At Lorenzo Fidora's estate, they haven't returned to the good old days but have taken a step forward toward quality, health, sustainable development, and environmental responsibility, supported by new technology and research. The Fidora family has cultivated the Civranetta estate for almost a century and believes that commitment, perseverance, and experience make their grapes special even before they reach the cellar. An early start means a lot to the family: they didn't just embark on this; they grew up with these thoughts. Their wines reflect their world—native varieties, soil, and local climate."

COLOR Ruby red

AROMA Scented cherries, plums, ginger and blackcurrants

TASTE Freshly acidic, currants, red fruity and lightly spicy. The wine gives silky tannins and a lingering finish on the palate

TIPS FOR USE A great companion for pasta, for a wide range of meat dishes, vegetable stews and mild cheeses.
