COSTA AZUL SAUVIGNON BLANC

LOZANO

”Relaxed enjoyment”

Story The wines of the Costa Azul range are straightforward and easy to enjoy. Whether it's a dinner party with a snack or spending time with friends. Easy-to-approach casual, fresh, fruity, easy to drink, but personal and quality Costa Azul wines playfully meet these needs.

Producer Bodegas Lozano's history traces back to 1853 when the Lozano family planted their first vineyard in Villarrobledo, Spain, within the La Mancha region. The operations have continued from generation to generation, and the company remains under the ownership of the Lozano family. The company significantly emphasizes sustainability and organic wine production. They have installed rainwater collection tanks in their vineyards to gather water and utilize solar panels to generate electricity. Lozano incorporates modern technology to enhance traditional winemaking methods.
